BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1950

VOL. 59 - No. 18

Observations..

By the Editor

There is a statute in the code which has been the law for a great number of years, allowing the Boards of Supervisors of a County to name a road accountant, and dame rumor has it that a couple of members of our board favor the creation of this job in this county, for our representative in the Legislature at a salary of $300.00 per month. The road accountant under the statute is the sole boss over the roads. He pays off the labor with county funds, credited to his account and hires and fires. Better think twice boys, you might owe our representative something, but you were elected to the office, and it is your duty to look after the roads in your respective beats; if you name a road accountant you might find yourself in an awkward position. He'll be running the job, and of course what is going to be your position about your own pay; bear in mind the greater portion of this is for inspection of roads and bridges. Better go slow, might be giving your own pay away. . . . Your Mississippi Congressmen are really on the job, and you can take Edgar Poe, Times Picayune Staff Correspondent's word for it. In an article in his paper he cited that in the first three months of this session there were 34 roll call votes, and that only 30 Democrats and 17 Republicans voted every time. Five Mississippians, Abernathy, Rankin, Winstead, Whitten and Williams, had perfect records. Bill Colmer and Will Whittington, while unable to vote on every roll call, came close. A real record for our representation in the national congress. . . . Bay St. Louis has a Housing Authority named by the Mayor and Commission Council. No one raised any objection to the ordinance creating this authority. But, pray tell, what do we need with a housing authority in Bay St. Louis? Do we have much of a slum area? Do we need housing which private capital cannot build? We may not be thoroughly acquainted with the housing act, but we have always thought its purpose was to provide needed housing and particularly to clear up uninhabitable areas in which people were compelled to live due to housing shortage. If we are wrong we stand to be corrected, and enlightened. It appears to us that much local capital has been invested in new housing in the last few years in Bay St. Louis and from all appearance it is continuing to be invested. Should these people be discouraged, or should their investment be threatened. We see no need for a local housing authority and frankly it should be allowed to die of its own volition. There is ample local capital to take care of our housing problems, and certainly government should not enter into competition with its citizens, when it is not necessary. . . . We Americans are quite glib. A hard luck tale can really get us down. The associated press report says a Russian escaped from a Soviet Concentration Camp, reported that Russia had built powerful rocket installation aimed at Alaska, and at other points in Europe. Senator Martin of Pennsylvania has already had a bill passed in the United States Senate to take this fellow in and grant him lawful residence in this country. If he was in a concentration camp how much does he know about Russian activities. He was determined to give the United States information on the operation of rockets and the workings of communism, his lawyer says he told him. Our guess is that we still have Intelligence Groups in this

Legion Auxiliary Sets May 27 as Poppy Day

Everyone in Bay St. Louis will be given an opportunity to wear a memorial poppy in honor of the war dead on Poppy Day, May 27, under plans for observance of the day which were completed at a meeting of Clement R. Bon Temps Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The observance will be directed by Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois the Auxiliary's Poppy Chairman. Other members of the Auxiliary and volunteers from other organizations will work with these leaders to bring poppies to everyone on Poppy Day.

Each district of the city will have its team of workers who will distribute poppies on the streets throughout the day. All will be unpaid volunteers, and the entire amount of contributions given for the poppies will go to support American Legion and Auxiliary welfare work for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans. Workers will receive their assignments and supplies at a rally to be held at the Legion Home the night before Poppy Day.

Poppies for the day have been ordered from the veterans hospital at Gulfport, where they are being made by disabled war veterans. They are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies which bloomed "between the crosses, row on row," in the war cemeteries in France and Belgium, and which have become the memorial flower of the English-speaking world. Making the poppies provides employment for thousands of veterans unable to do other work.

125 Hancock County Representatives Make An Annual Spring Pasture Tour Wednesday

Women Voters Meet

The Provisional League of Women Voters will hold a general meeting Thursday, May 11, at 8 p. m. in the Youth Center on Uman avenue. It is hoped that all members and those interested in becoming members will attend. Reports from the chairman of the membership drive.

The membership committee wishes to remind the women in Hancock County that League membership should be of as much importance to them as it is to the residents of Bay St. Louis, as the use of the right to vote is of paramount importance to each and every member of a democracy.

"You are seeing what we in Hancock County are trying to do—put each acre of land to the use for which it is best suited," Howard Simmons, county agent, told the one hundred and twenty-five representatives of Hancock County who attended the annual spring pasture tour sponsored by the Hancock County Livestock Association Wednesday morning, May 3.

Clermont Garden Club Holds Contest May 3

The Blue Jeans Garden Club of Clermont Harbor held its annual garden contest Wednesday, May 3.

GIVES LUNCHEON

Preceding the tour, a luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Lucien Bland Douglas of New Orleans and Clermont Harbor, in honor of the judges and the members of the program committee, which included Mrs. J. L. Saleeby, Mrs. Roy Dennis and Mrs. J. William Hill, Jr. Later in the afternoon, the officers of the club joined the others for an informal tea and to hear the results of the judging. The officers are Mrs. A. J. Carriek, Mrs. Clarence E. Becker, Mrs. Havard Burleigh, and Mrs. Jules Schroth.

PUT EACH ACRE TO ITS USE

On the tour, County Agent, Simmons pointed out examples of putting each acre to its best use. In support of this theory, the group saw fescue on low wet-landed soil in Fred Taylor's pasture and Crimson Clover growing on well-drained soil at D. C. Wahl's pasture in Dedaux.

At each farm on the tour, the owner told the process he used, and the amount of fertilizer, and preparation made to get the seed bed ready, and how much grazing he had done on his pasture. Each owner was able to demonstrate the results of this procedure by showing the group his well-drained pasture.

CATTLE RAISING AREA

E. E. Dean, District Extension Supervisor, in addressing the men, said, "Hancock County is rapidly becoming a cattle raising area in Southern Mississippi; the natural climate and rainfall helps make this development possible, and the nearness to markets. Hancock County is progressing so rapidly that grasses and clovers recommended for years are being discarded in favor of others which are better adapted and proving themselves. Through a tour of this kind, when each farmer has a well planned farm project with each acre in its proper use, people can see for themselves what the result is."

Also on the tour were a group from Harrison County, and Ernest Mitchell and a group from Picayune.

While making the tour the party saw white Dutch clover, Kentucky 31 fescue, reseeded crimson clover and other pasture grasses and clovers which are proving worthwhile in Hancock County.

Farms covered Wednesday were James L. Crump, Jordan River, pasture; Fred Taylor's on the Texas Flat Road, pasture; James V. Miller, Flat Top community, Blue Lupine; Paul Bouds' Flat Top Community, pasture; Alfred Wittorf's, Leetown community, pasture; Joe Ladner's, Necaise Crossing, pasture; Johnson Shaw, Sellers community, pasture; Ford Smith, Sellers community, pasture; D. C. Wahl, Dedaux community, pasture; and H. D. Voorhes, Rocky Hill community, pasture.

IS IT TO EASE HIS CONSCIENCE?

Highway Commissioner John D. Smith, should quit trying to explain why highway 90 has been forgotten. Before the Lions Club at Gulfport on Tuesday of this week he is reported to have said, and we quote: "It will take about $18,000,000.00 to put Highway 90 including the two bridges in proper shape. It would take nine years, using every cent allotted to the Southern District of the State to do this work under the present highway program set up by the Legislature. THEREFORE YOU SEE THAT HIGHWAY 90 IS A SPECIAL PROBLEM. I did not want to see a toll bridge, but it was a case of a toll bridge or no bridge now. I am sure you would rather have the bridges as proposed now than no bridge at all. As the situation now stands, the quicker we build them the happier we'll be."

He should have closed his remark with "The happier I will be." He will probably be the only one happy over the fact that he helped to saddle toll bridges on the people of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and will probably be very happy over the fact that his conscience might not have to bear the burden of the loss of lives, through the collapse of the present old dilapidated structure. A new bridge should be under construction at this time, had he been interested in allocating funds for it. The money, $2,000,000.00, which was allocated for the building of the bridge on Highway 26 over Pascagoula River, between Wiggins and Lucedale, used perhaps by less than 100 cars a day, together with the federal money which would have been forthcoming, would have been sufficient to construct a bridge over the Bay of St. Louis, and part of the problem which highway 90 has become would have been eliminated. Highway 90 has now become a special problem so he says. The truth is that it has always been a special problem, not to the highway department, but the counties of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson. They footed the bill originally, together with Federal funds, the State not contributing a penny; and today when some help is needed, it becomes a special problem to the "dear" members of the highway commission.

Were Highways 49, 51, 80 and 11, except a portion of the last mentioned highway in Pearl River County and all of it in Hancock County, a special problem for the Highway Commission? No these and many other highways, of lesser importance, were no special problem. They were built, and it would not surprise us to hear John Smith soon declare that in addition to highway 90 he has another great problem on his hand; the rebuilding of that little portion of highway 11 from Picayune to Pearl River in Hancock County.

Many millions of dollars of State bonds have been issued for the construction of the primary highways of the State of Mississippi. In fact, the 1946 session of the Legislature authorized the issuance of $30,000,000.00 of highway bonds, and the allotment to the Southern district of this amount was $10,000,000.00, and of course this did not include the regularly appropriated funds for construction work, which were received during the past four years. Of this vast sum, what did Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties get. In Hancock County we think the last five miles of paved highway were constructed with these funds. Harrison and Jackson were blanked.

Yes, our highway has become a very special problem, lost and forgotten in the realms of political indifference. Bear in mind however, the great concrete structure contemplated to be built, once constructed will ever serve as a gentle reminder of public officials who, for probable political expediency, forsook us, forgetting, that the Gulf Coast was yet a part of Mississippi.

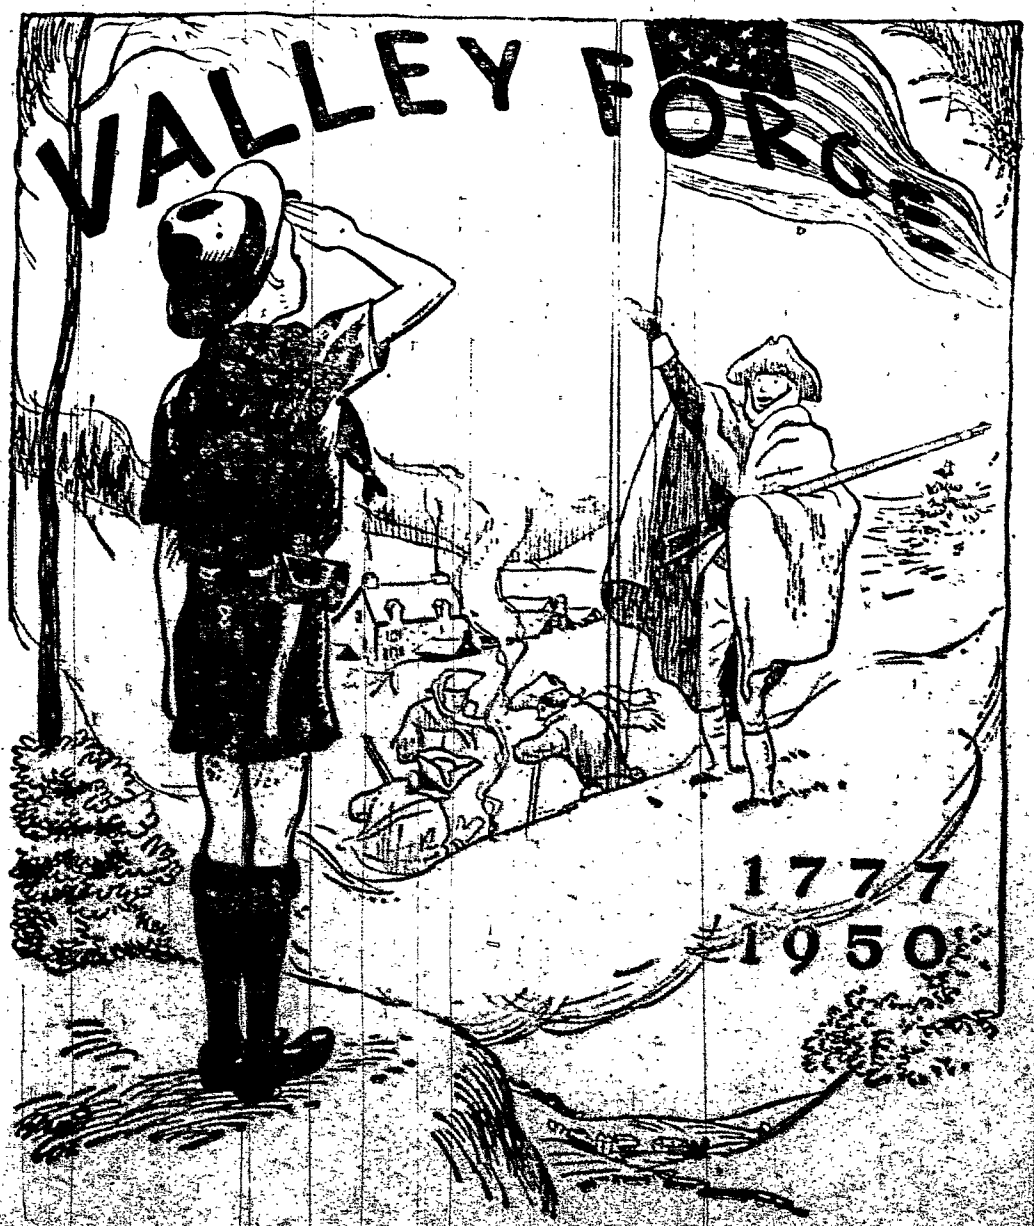

G. F. Stevenson attended the General Motors Acceptance Corporation dealers meeting held at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel Wednesday.

James Collier, of 415 Carroll avenue, who has been at the Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, is now at home and is showing much improvement.

Moss Rita Mae Scaife, who holds a position in New Orleans, spent the past weekend here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scaife.

The Scaife's also had with them their son Toby Scaife, Paul Trapp and Miss Dannie Cleese all students of Southeastern Louisiana College.

Historic Site for 40,000 Scouts at Jamboree

At Valley Forge, Pa., where George Washington and his Continental Army of 10,000 men made history in the bitter winter of 1777-78, more than 40,000 Boy Scouts and leaders from all parts of the nation will pitch their 600-acre tented city for their second National Jamboree next June 30 to July 6.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Backstage Interests

NO MATTER which side of the McCarthy - state department dispute you are on, it's important to know some of the factors behind the energetic senator from Wisconsin. Supported by a conglomeration of backstage interests, including one or two government figures, here is a roll call of the men who are giving him assistance.

1. THE KUOMINTANG LOBBY—It has millions to spend, once hired Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, includes the powerful brothers-in-law of Chiang Kai-shek, Dr. H. H. and T. V. Soong. More about this lobby later.

2. WILLIAM J. GOODWIN—A former Coughlinite and Christie Fronter, he is paid $25,000 annually by the Kuomintang lobby, wines and dines congressmen, deluges editors with propaganda on China.

3. EX-CONGRESSMAN KERSTEN OF WISCONSIN—Defeated for reelection, Kersten is McCarthy's chief backstage sleuth. For a time he occupied room 316 in the Congressional hotel, where he placed so many phone calls it attracted the attention of hotel employees. The hotel bills were paid not by Kersten, but by McCarthy.

4. NEWSPAPER CHAINS—Two newsmen formerly with big chain papers are attached to McCarthy to write speeches and statements. That's why his statements make good news copy, usually hit the headlines. One newsmen is George Watters, formerly with the Chicago Tribune group. The Scripps-Howard chain also gives its blessing. None of these men appears on McCarthy's senate payroll, nor do the four ex-FBI men he once hired. So someone else must be footing the bill.

5. ALFRED KOHLBERG—Big importer of lace handkerchiefs, does a business of $1,500,000 a year with China, and admits he finances his American China Policy association—a pressure association—partly out of that business. Kohlberg is close to the Kuomintang lobby, has Owen Lattimore and believes anyone not a rabble-rousing anti-Red is automatically a Communist.

Chinese Money
Of these backstage McCarthy helpers, most powerful is the Kuomintang or "Chiang Kai-shek" lobby, financed by U.S. taxpayers money supposed to have gone to China for relief. A treasury department survey of foreign funds two years ago indicated that about 200 million dollars of this money was now in the United States, but officials estimate it has doubled since then, due to the exit of Nationalist funds from China before the Communists took over.

This, maybe, explains part of McCarthy's financial backing.

Working in friendly cooperation with the Kuomintang lobby in this country has been ex-Ambassador William C. Bullitt, Gen. Claire Chennault, ex-Sen. Worth Clark of Idaho, Alfred Kohlberg, and Senators Bridges of New Hampshire and Knowland of California.

One of the lobby's neat byplays was sending ex-Senator Clark to China in 1948 to make a supposed impartial survey and then recommend more U.S. money for Chiang.

Here are significant facts behind the byplay: Kohlberg gave a $1,000 campaign contribution to popular Sen. Styles Bridges, then chairman of the senate appropriations committee. Bridges appointed Clark to go to China and make an impartial survey.

Small Business Warned

THE HOUSE select committee named to conduct a study and investigate the problems of small business believes that these small business firms should form organizations or join organizations for their mutual advantage.

In a recent report of his committee, Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, chairman of the house committee, said: "It is altogether healthy in our democracy that small business men should do what comparable groups, such as labor and farmers, have already done, namely to exercise their American right to organize themselves."

But here Congressman Patman intervenes with a warning that it is far from healthy if these organizations purporting to represent small business, do not in fact do so, but have an axe of their own to grind, may be financed by "big business" or who are just professional promoters trading on the natural appeal that the term "small business" has.

Patman believes that business organizations supported by large public utilities, for instance, or by big business firms, cannot serve both masters, for the reason that often the interests of big and little business clash.

In this category he lists four organizations which advertise themselves as representatives of small business—The National Tax Equality association, the National Associated Businessmen, Inc., National Small Business Men's association and the Small Business Economic Foundation.

Have Same Promoters
Congressman Patman charges in his report that NTEA and NAB are related organizations, one supporting the other with the same promoters serving both organizations and many of its largest contributors of the $500,000 collected during 1949 were large public utilities, electric light and power firms.

The report also charges that NSBMA and SBEF are related organizations with the same president and officers and that one supports the other but that its largest contributions come from firms with assets over 100 million dollars each. For instance listed contributors are Standard Oil of Indiana, Socony-Vacuum, the Texas company, Standard Oil of New Jersey and United States Steel.

Main lobbying activities of these two latter organizations seems to have been directed against labor and for restrictions on labor unions while the theme of the NTEA and NAB campaign was for "tax equality" directed against farm and other cooperatives.

Candid Statement
After pointing out that the aims of NSBMA and SBEF "never seem to conflict with the side taken by 'big business,'" Congressman Patman says in a message by the President of the National Small Business Men's association in 1949 which says: "The small-business man can be the most effective force there is in the country for molding public opinion. They are the backbone of their communities. Their ideas and their views are respected. Their employees, neighbors, suppliers and other friends will listen to them and equally important, their representatives in congress are always glad to have their ideas concerning the effect of any piece of legislation on their businesses."

On this the House report, comments: "This seems to be a fairly candid statement of the value of exploiting the name 'small business' whether by the association or the foundation for the purpose of selling another package of goods, somewhat innocently entitled 'free enterprise.'"

REA Power Cheaper
According to a report by Claude Wickard, rural electrification administrator, REA borrowers during fiscal 1949 paid almost 50 million dollars for the power they purchased during the year at an average price of 8.9 mills per kilowatt hour. And here may be a reason why folks will use double the electricity on public power lines than is used on lines from private companies.

Pleasing Appointments
Recent appointments by the President of former Senators John Foster Dulles of New York and John Cooper of Kentucky, both Republicans, as aides to Secretary of State Dean Acheson brought prompt approval by Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Said Senator Morse: "Whenever I find the President of the United States exercising a leadership designed to unite the people, I am not going to hesitate to support him."

FARM SUPPORT PROGRAM

Every year there is a battle in Congress over the question of support for agricultural commodities and the necessary appropriations to carry out the price support program. Usually there is a line up roughly between the members of Congress representing rural or farm areas and those members representing the big city areas.

Moreover, now that people are becoming more conscious of the cost of government there is a great deal of information and information, as well as propaganda, that goes out of Washington over the radio and through the efforts of the newspaper columnists as to the cost of the agricultural program. One irresponsible columnist wrote some time ago that the cotton support program cost $600 million. Other press reports have put the Commodity Credit Corporation losses at $4 billion. There have been other misleading and confusing statements on the subject.

As if to answer all of this, the Commodity Credit Corporation, which is an organization set up under the Department of Agriculture, for the administration of this program issued a statement showing the true facts with reference to its dealings.

Those figures, showing losses and gains through the price support program on these agricultural commodities for the 17 years that the program has been in effect, are as follows:

Commodities on which there were net gains:
Cotton	$206 million
Tobacco	5.3 million
Soybeans	4.8 million
Other	1.1 million
Total	$217.2 million

Commodities on which there were net losses:
Potatoes, Irish	$355.4 million
Wool	90.4 million
Does not include $60 million profit by government on wool bought from Britain during war and sold
Peanuts	60.2 million
Corn	46.8 million
Wheat	43.5 million
Eggs	39.2 million
Hemp and hemp fiber	21.5 million
Sugar beets	16.5 million
Grain Sorghums	12.5 million
Others	27.0 million
Total	$713.0 million
Net Loss	495.8 million

It is interesting to note that on cotton the government actually made a net profit of $206 million.

The week of May 1-7 has been designated as National Posture week by the International Chiropractor Association.

They advise people to be more aware of good posture as a means of better health.

LETTERS
Editor:
I feel so badly about not being able to go to the Bay this summer. The dust is so bad that it effects my hay fever. Others in my family have it, too, and I know of many others who are not going to the Bay this summer because of this.

We go from May until October, and I think it will do a lot of harm if you do not do something about the dust because the summer visitors are the ones who bring business.

Ordinarily, knowing what editors expect of me, I don't devote much space in this column to stories of faith, devotion and other such unhip subjects. However, I bumped into a yarn the other night that did nice things to my spine, and here 'tis, even though it's as corny as a chorus of "Hearts and Flowers."

Some years ago, a dancer named Jean Armstrong (note to Ed.—that's her square monicker and she's given me permission to use it) came down with a ruptured appendix, and by the time they got her to the hospital, peritonitis had set in and the doctors didn't give her much chance.

The following day, the nurse handed her a string of rosary beads. "A little girl tried to get in to see you this morning," she said. Her name was Sylvia, and she said her mother was a friend of yours. When I told her you couldn't be disturbed, she asked me to give you this. It has a St. Christopher medal on it, and the kid thought it might bring you luck."

The dancer wasn't a Catholic, but she was touched by the present anyhow. And six weeks later, thanks to faith or the new sulfa drugs, she was out of the hospital.

FROM THEN ON, she kept the rosary in her make-up box, but a couple of years later, after a succession of cheap variety houses and even cheaper hotels, the beads no longer seemed very important. And one day, when one of the girls in her vaudeville unit asked about the St. Christopher medal, Jean said, "It's nothing at all. Just a piece of old junk. I don't know why I keep on carrying it."

That Sunday, when the troupe checked into a Baltimore hotel, Jean put the make-up case on top of her valise and signed the register, but when she reached for her luggage the case was gone. She notified the desk and, when that didn't produce results, reported the loss to the police. But when the unit pulled out of Baltimore on Saturday night, neither case nor beads had been found.

In Pittsburgh the next week, the show got bad notices and folded, and as if that weren't enough, the manager skipped with the salaries. A few days later, down to her last three bucks, Jean considered herself plenty lucky when a local agent offered her a job in a Miami nightclub. She was given a ticket—car 16.

At 7 o'clock the dancer left the hotel, but a couple of blocks from the depot she noticed something on the sidewalk and picked it up. It was a string of rosary beads and, attached to it, a medallion of St. Christopher.

JEAN DIDN'T KNOW then, and she doesn't know now, whether it was the same rosary. She did know, however, that it looked exactly like the one the little girl had sent her, except for one thing—the chain had been broken. As she continued on to the station, she got to thinking of the beads—how sick she had been when she first got them, and how her troupe had been stranded when she had referred to the medallion as a piece of old junk. And suddenly it seemed important to get the chain fixed.

Up the street there was a combination book-shop-jewelry store and, forgetting the 7.22, she walked in. The jeweler worked as fast as he could, but when he handed the rosary back to her the clock said 7:30, and the dancer knew she was out of a job again.

With less than a dollar in her purse, she went back to the hotel, and a few minutes later the phone rang. It was the stage manager of "The Student Prince" which, for the umpteenth time, was playing the Nixon theater. "Heard your troupe was stranded," he said. "One of our dancers is getting married tomorrow, and if you want to fill in for a few weeks—"

And now for as corny a finish as ever found its way into a so-called hep column. When Jean picked up a newspaper the next morning, she read that the 7:22 out of Pittsburgh had been side-swiped by a freight car. It wasn't much of a wreck—nobody had been hurt because the two berths which were bashed in happened to be empty. One of them, of course, was berth No. 1, car 16.

The study will have an important bearing on the type of bridge to be built and the rate of toll to be established, John D. Smith, highway commissioner said.

Purpose of the survey conducted by the planning Division of the State Highway Department, according to Mr. Smith, was to determine the travel habits of motorists in this area, and to ascertain the number of motorists that would use the bridge if it were a toll facility.

Morrow Thanks People for Aid to Crippled Society

R. D. Morrow, President of the Mississippi Society for Crippled Children and Adults, today thanked the people of Mississippi for their "magnificent support of the cause of crippled children" in the Easter Seal Campaign.

He urged those who have neglected making their contributions, to mail them immediately to the county chairman or to the State headquarters, 203 Barnett-Madden Building, Jackson, Mississippi.

"Every handicapped person in our state helped by services provided by Easter Seal donations is grateful for the truly magnificent support in the Easter Seal Campaign," Mr. Morrow said.

"The funds contributed have made possible the continuation of our direct services, judging from incomplete returns. We hope that we can go ahead with plans for the expansion of services to larger groups. Of all funds raised, 91.7 per cent are kept in our own state, with 8.3 per cent going for a national program of research, education, and consultative services."

States' Righters
Meet In Jackson

States' Rights Democrats from the South and nation will gather in Jackson's municipal auditorium at 1:00 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, May 10th, 1950 for the third annual meeting of the group that has successfully withstood the attacks of States' Rights enemies from within and without the South since 1948.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS

Governor Fielding L. Wright of Miss. will deliver the address of welcome and will act as master speaker of ceremonies, with many prominent States' Righters scheduled to appear on the program. The presentation of a militant plan of action for States' Righters under the slogan, "Fight on Thru '52" will be presented to the delegates for consideration and approval.

URGED TO ATTEND

Advance registrations indicate that some sixteen or more states will have sizeable delegates in Jackson for this annual event and States' Righters in Mississippi urge every Mississippi States' Rights Democrat to attend the meeting to prove to out-of-state visitors that Mississippi is still the leading States' Rights state.

Registration will take place at both doors of the auditorium—on Pearl and on South Congress Streets—and the meeting will get underway promptly at 1:00 o'clock. Music, a roll call of states, presentation of a new plan of action and brief addresses by States' Righters will be highlights of the meeting.

If hotel reservations are desired they should be made direct with either the Edwards, Heidelberg, Robert E. Lee or Walthall hotels in Jackson or through Ed S. Lewis, National States' Rights Committee secretary, P. O. Box 919, Jackson, Mississippi.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

Home Demonstration Week Starts Sunday

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Over the radio, in meetings, on tours, on the telephone, in the newspapers and magazines, you've been hearing and reading about Home Demonstration Week this week.

The fifth annual National Home Demonstration Week started Sunday. This special week was proclaimed through the Nation by President Truman in a letter addressed to the three million women in home demonstration work. In Mississippi we have over 23,000 home demonstration club women and in Hancock County we have 203 members.

Our state home demonstration agent, Miss May Cresswell, says that every week is Home Demonstration Week in Mississippi. This is true, but during this one special week, we summarize the work of all the other 51 weeks and tell the public of our objectives, activities, and accomplishments.

Importance of Training Leaders In 1949, home demonstration club members gave thought and study to educational institutions and recreational facilities in Mississippi. They studied the need for leadership in rural communities and the importance of training both adult and junior leaders.

A specific topic for study was the health situation in Mississippi people. In 1950 every home demonstration member will have an opportunity to learn more about the program for helping displaced persons and what we are doing in the United States to strengthen friendship with other Nations. The clubs will continue their study of Mississippi resources, as forestry, tung oil, cotton uses, and minerals.

Rights leaders from across the South will be highlights of the meeting.

If hotel reservations are desired they should be made direct with either the Edwards, Heidelberg, Robert E. Lee or Walthall hotels in Jackson or through Ed S. Lewis, National States' Rights Committee secretary, P. O. Box 919, Jackson, Mississippi.

Under the guidance of county home demonstration agents and home demonstration specialists, club women are learning and practicing better methods in food production and food preservation, meal planning and serving. These same women, along with 4-H Club girls, are sewing, cleaning, home, refinishing furniture, landscaping homes, learning better care of children, better nutrition and healthier practices under the leadership of trained home agents and according to the latest scientific information.

The objectives of home demonstration club women are all pointed to better life and a better living. The theme for this national recognition week is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World".

Director of Extension L. I. Jones, director of the Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service, said that this fifth National Home Demonstration Week tribute is paid to the splendid work of rural homemakers in improving their homes and keeping their families well.

From a small beginning in 1913, he pointed out, the Home Demonstration program of the Cooperative Extension Service has grown to the point where there are 1,865 home demonstration clubs in the state with 53,892 members. These figures include both white and Negro clubs and members.

The success of these clubs he attributed largely to the splendid work of almost 10,000 voluntary home demonstration leaders. These leaders unselfishly devote their efforts to this work without pay and from the backbone by which the Extension programs reach and influence over 188,000 homes.

Southern Baptists Make Significant Gains in 1949 Southern Baptists gained 463 new churches last year. They now have 27,285 churches and 6,761,265 members, according to an announcement made by Porter Routh secretary of survey and information for the denomination. They baptized 334,892 new members last year. This was 24,966 more than in 1948.

Net gain in church membership for the year was 272,440. Sunday School enrollment was up 8 per cent to 4,643,650. Training Union enrollment was up 14.5 per cent to 1,235,438. Women's Missionary Union enrollment was up 10.1 per cent to 943,135. Brotherhood enrollment was up 19.4 per cent to 142,412.

Southern Baptists built $97,772,047 worth of new church property to bring total value to more than one half billion dollars. They gave $178,337,307 for the support of their churches last year. This was $22,762,800 more than in 1948. Mission gifts last year were $31,316,818.

Send Invitations
For Soil Meeting

State College, Miss.—Invitations have gone out to Governor Wright, Mississippi congressmen and other state leaders to attend the state-wide soil and water resources conservation meeting here May 6, which will feature an address by Major General Lewis A. Pick, Washington, D. C., Chief, U. S. Army Engineers.

DAY'S PROGRAM

The day's program will deal with the importance of proper soil use and water conservation and use in producing power, inland transportation, irrigation and flood control to strengthen the state's economy. Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, president of the college, and L. I. Jones, director of Extension, emphasized in their letter of invitation to state leaders.

This meeting, the college officials said, will be a meeting of the Mississippi unit of the Southeastern Resources Development Association, which has headquarters at Birmingham.

The board of trustees of the association, which represents the states of Alabama, Mississippi, and Georgia, will attend the meeting, according to P. O. Davis, president, and director of the Alabama Extension Service, Auburn.

C of C COOPERATES

Chamber of Commerce of the State College area, including Columbus, Aberdeen and Starkville, cooperated with college officials in planning the May 6 program, which will begin at 10 a. m. in the college auditorium.

At the "Meet Your Congressman Luncheon" in the college cafeteria following General Pick's address, visitors will be seated by congressional districts with their congressmen.

GENERAL PICK

General Pick was appointed Chief of Engineers in March, 1949. During World War II, as commander of a section of Army Service Forces in the India-Burma Theater, he was responsible for the construction, operation, and maintenance of the Ledo Road, used to supply United States and Chinese troops in Burma.

He is a native of Virginia and received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1914 from Virginia Polytechnic Institute where he was an outstanding athlete. He was appointed first lieutenant in the Engineers Reserve in August, 1917, and served with World War I forces in France.

He was commissioned a second lieutenant, Corps of Engineers in the regular Army on July 1, 1920. He has served as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Alabama Polytechnic Institute and at Texas A. & M. College.

GOD... Or The Greatest Fraud That Ever Lived

Almost everyone will agree that Jesus Christ was a great man.

Most people will admit that Jesus was a person of the highest morals... that He was an inspired spiritual leader... that neither before His time, nor since, has anyone performed the miraculous works which He performed.

Yet millions of people refuse to believe that He is the eternal Son of God.

The Catholic Church maintains that Jesus is the Son of God. He is either that—or the greatest fraud that ever lived.

For Christ Himself... under cross-examination by the high priest Caiaphas... was asked: "I adjure thee, by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou art the Christ, the Son of God." And Jesus replied: "Thou hast said it" (Matthew XXVI: 63-64).

"O, sure," some may say, "Christ claimed to be the eternal Son of God. But His claim doesn't prove that He really is."

A man who only claims to be the Son of God, however, could not walk upon the waters and quiet the waves as Jesus did. He could not cleanse the lepers... give sight to the blind... bring the dead back to life. Nor could a man who only claimed to be divine return from the dead as Jesus and no other has ever done.

Scattered through the books of the Old Testament from Genesis to Malachi are numerous prophecies of the coming of the Savior—written as long as 1,000 years before

Jesus came upon the earth.

These prophecies describe the family from which the Savior would come... the circumstances of His birth... His life of preaching and His miracles... and finally, His passion and death in atonement for the sins of mankind. All of these predictions apply to only one person in all the annals of human history—and that one is Jesus Christ.

For more than 1900 years, the Catholic Church has taught without change or compromise... as it does today... that Christ is the eternal Son of God who became man—that only through Him can men find their way into the eternal grace of the Father. Upon this truth rests not only the foundation of the Church but the hope of mankind.

"He who is not with Me," Jesus said, "is against Me." Being "with" Jesus is not merely a matter of acknowledging His greatness. It is an obligation to know Christ and His teaching... to believe and follow Him... to pattern our lives to His example and precept.

If you want to know Jesus better... to have a fuller and clearer understanding of His teaching and His plan for our lives... you will find the answer in Christ's Own words as told in the Four Gospels of the New Testament. We shall be happy to send you a copy of the Four Gospels arranged in a continuous narrative for easy reading... upon your request and without cost or obligation. Write today for Gospels No. 8—KC.

"FOREST SERVICE RUMOR WITHOUT FOUNDATION" SAYS RANGER MARLAR

The rumor that the Mississippi Forest Service is advocating stock law is without foundation," T. V. Marlar, Area Forest Ranger, stated.

"We wish to brand as false the rumor being passed around that the Mississippi Forest Service is advocating a fence law in South Mississippi. All rumors," he added, "of this nature are absolutely devoid of truth and without foundation. Our job is to assist the woodland owners with their timber problems and assist them in preventing damage done to their woodland by wild woods fires."

NOT TAKING PART

The Forest Service does not own the woodland they protect, nor do they own the livestock on the range; therefore, they are not taking any part whatsoever in the grazing problem. "We feel," the ranger said, "that this is a matter to be worked out between the woodland owners and stock owners where friction has arisen."

The Mississippi Forest Service will appreciate any information about employees of the Mississippi Forest Commission who are taking part in any movement to create a disturbance among woodland owners and stock men. "It is our intention," Mr. Marlar concluded, "to do the best job we can in timber management, fire protection and fire control work and not to become involved in controversial matters not pertaining to our business."

May 10 Set As Date For Patrol Applications

"May 10th has been set as the final date for receiving applications for Highway Patrolmen," says Col. T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety. "This deadline for receiving applications has been set due to the fact that it will take several weeks to process all applicants for mental and physical examinations and personal investigations of all applicants."

Says Birdsong further, "We hope all men interested in a job as a Highway Patrolman and who can qualify will get an application blank, properly fill out same and return to, Patrol Headquarters, 255 North State Street, Jackson, Mississippi by May 10."

"All applicants are urged to enclose photograph, birth certificate and three letters of recommendation. Without these papers the application will not be considered. After application, with proper papers, has been filed, do not write or telephone, as you will be notified when to report for mental and physical examinations and personal interview. All applicants will be given careful and due consideration. Date and location of school will be announced in the near future."

Army Plans ROC Camps

To promote more effective training and interest in the Army Organized Reserve Corps Program, a series of eight week-end contact camps will be held by the Mississippi Military District.

At present over 1200 reservists from the state have already applied for one or more of the camps.

Colonel Clifton T. Hunt, senior army instructor, ORC, for the State of Mississippi, said, "The basic policy in the preparation of schedules and programs for the camps will be, 'Training for the reservists by the reservist.' Activities will be scheduled whereby the individual officer and enlisted man can participate to the greatest extent."

The first camp will be held for reservists of the Field Artillery and Coast Artillery Corps which will meet at Headquarters Mississippi Military District on the week-end of May 6-7. It will be followed by one for reservists of the Corps of Engineers to be held in Vicksburg on May 20-21 and one for the Judge Advocate General's Department to be held at Headquarters Mississippi Military District on the same week-end. The Reserve Infantry contact camp will be held June 3-4, the Medical camp June 10-11, the Quartermaster camp June 17-18, the Adjutant General and Signal Corps together on June 24-25. All of these meet at Headquarters Mississippi Military District.

Reserve Officers and enlisted men attending the camps will earn points for retention in the active reserve and for retirement purposes. Reimbursement will be made for traveling expenses, lodging and meals while attending these camps. Since there is no government mess or quarters available, all subsistence and lodging will be taken at public facilities.

All visiting officers and enlisted men will be given a guest membership entitling them to participate in the social functions of the Officers and Servicemen's Mess at the Military District Headquarters.

Any Army Reservists desiring further information about these contact camps should contact the nearest ORC Unit Army Instructor.

GI Home Loan Benefits Aided By Provisions In Housing Act

More than 13 million World War II veterans who have not yet availed themselves of loan guaranty rights provided in the GI Bill will find their home loan benefits greatly enhanced by provisions contained in the Housing Act of 1950, just signed by President Truman.

Important changes in the GI Home Loan Program which will result from the new law were outlined by Veterans Administration today. Regulations and procedures to put the new provisions into effect now are being drafted by VA and will be issued as soon as possible.

CHANGES

The principal changes are:

1. The amount of VA's guaranty on an eligible veteran's home loan is increased to 60% of the loan, up to a maximum guarantee of $7,500. Previously, the guarantee was 50%, up to $4,000. Thus, under the new law, the 60% ratio will apply on mortgages up to $12,500, with the guarantee remaining at $7,500 for loans over $12,500.

Despite the increased guaranty, VA's guaranty payment for credit on the veteran's loan will remain at 4% of the first $4,000 of guarantee used, and so may not exceed $160, as under the old law.

2. Unmarried widows of deceased veterans who died in service, or from service-connected causes after discharge, are made eligible for GI loan benefits to which their husbands would have been entitled.

3. Combination FHA-GI loans to veterans, which currently represent about one-third of the volume in veterans' loans, will be eliminated after a future date to be announced by Carl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs. These loans are more costly and advantageous to the borrower than the straight GI Loan.

Under this plan, the Federal Housing Administration insured the veteran's first mortgage, usually 80% of the total loan, and VA guaranteed the entire amount of the 20% second mortgage. Net cost to the veteran is about 4.8% as compared with the 4% maximum interest rate permitted on a straight GI Loan.

4. The maximum period of time over which home loans may be made repayable is extended from 25 years to 30 years, to provide lower monthly payments. For example, a 20-year GI Loan of $8,000 results in monthly payments of a little over $48, as against $42 for a 25-year loan and $38 for a 30-year loan.

5. Effective 90 days hence, VA is authorized to make direct government loans at 4% interest to eligible veterans in certain areas where 4% home financing is not available from other sources. Such veterans must meet all the qualifications for a regular GI Loan, including credit and income requirements. No direct loan may exceed $10,000 and a total of $150,000,000 is made available until July 1, 1951 for this purpose.

6. Homes on which construction is begun subsequent to 60 days from the effective date of the law will not be eligible for sale to veterans with the aid of GI Loans unless the property meets certain minimum construction requirements as prescribed by VA. Similar requirements for new construction have been in effect for some time on a voluntary basis, but this is the first authority granted VA to make them mandatory.

7. VA is authorized, in certain circumstances, to restore the loan guaranty rights of veterans who used their entitlement to purchase property which later is taken through condemnation, or is destroyed by fire or other natural hazard.

8. VA is authorized and directed to issue regulations limiting the fees and other charges which may be made against builders and veterans in connection with the construction and sale of homes financed through GI Loans.

9. The Federal National Mortgage Association, a Government Agency commonly known as "Fanny May," is given $250,000,000 in additional authority for the purchase of GI and FHA Loans made by private lending agencies. This must be used for current purchases only, and is not subject to ear-marking in the form of commitments for future purchases.

10. Provisions are included to make GI Loans for farm dwellings easier to obtain, and farm loans are granted equally with other home loans with respect to eligibility for purchase by Fanny May.

2 MILLION VETS GET LOANS
Through last March, just under two million veterans had been granted GI Loans for home, farm or business purposes. Loans approved totaled 1,818,000 for homes, 55,000 for farms and 118,000 for businesses. The original face amount of all loans approved reached about $10,769,000,000.

VA again reminded veterans that they face no early deadline in connection with their loan guaranty rights. This entitlement to a guaranteed loan remains available until July 25, 1957.

2000 Mississippians Will Die Of Cancer

More than two thousand Mississippians will die of cancer this year, if present conditions continue according to a recent statement by Dr. Felix J. Underwood, State Campaign Chairman, Mississippi Division, American Cancer Society. "This figure does not represent the total number of people who will develop the disease," said Dr. Underwood. "There will be an addition of approximately 10,000 cases throughout the state."

"At least 1/3 or approximately 3300 of these cases could be saved if every person in Mississippi who developed cancer had it properly treated in its early stages. Delay is very dangerous in dealing with cancer," continued Dr. Underwood.

SEEK QUICK CURE

Dr. Underwood said that delay in seeking proper medical advice may be caused by patients seeking treatment from so called "miracle cures" or quacks. Many lives which could be saved are lost each year because valuable time is wasted in following the advice of miracle cures. No quack ever cured a case of cancer. Other reasons for delay may be lack of knowledge about the early symptoms of the disease, fear of discovering that one has cancer, a false belief that it is shameful to have cancer or it may be just procrastination. Whatever the reason for delay is, the facts show that patients who are dying because of delay are dying needlessly. Dr. Underwood urges every citizen to learn the danger signals of cancer and if one of the symptoms should appear to seek competent medical care without delay. Regular medical examinations are strongly advised.

FIRE SUPPRESSION ACTIVITIES

By T. V. Marlar, Area Forest Ranger

During the month of March 1950, there were one hundred and sixty-seven wild woods fires suppressed in Hancock County, burning a total of 4,449 acres. Estimated damage to seedlings and growing timber $15,841.00. Practically all of these fires were set by people who are indifferent to damage done to other peoples property; we sometimes wonder how long the small woodland owners and other interested citizens will sit idly by and watch their neighbors deliberately and maliciously burn their property, without even a protest. If and when the property owners themselves decide to help with these problems, we will be able to render a much greater service to them.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Urge Growers To Produce High Quality Fruit

By Howard F. Simmons

FRUIT TREE MANAGEMENT

Supply of Southern peaches will be short this year, resulting in increased demand and prices. Severe frost damage occurred to the commercial peach crop in many areas last month, according to reports from South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Mississippi growers are urged to practice the best possible care and management to produce the maximum crop of high quality fruit. While the Mississippi fruit crop had some "close calls" during April, it apparently escaped serious frost damage except in the extreme northern part of the state where peaches and plums were damaged. The peach crop in South Mississippi will again be short because of the mild winter which for the second year delayed fruit and leaf bud development.

Although delayed growth of leaves on peach trees in South Mississippi may have a weakening effect, most trees can be saved by proper cultivation, fertilization and removal of all dead or badly damaged branches. Old, top-heavy, tall or weakened trees, which have no crop, should be severely pruned within the next few weeks.

Young, vigorous trees need no additional pruning except to remove water-sprouts.

From experience of the past two winters and early spring seasons, the importance of variety adaptability is emphasized, particularly in South Mississippi. In addition to Hiley, well adapted peach varieties are Southland, Sun High, Dixigem, Redhaven, Halehaven and Golden Jubilee.

HOME GARDENS

Some gardens are behind schedule this year after the wet, cold weather in April. But a little extra effort right now and for the next few weeks will result in the variety and quality of vegetables needed for the family.

To be planted now are bush and pole snap beans, bush and pole lima beans, corn, collards, okra, squash, cucumber, New Zealand Spinach, soybeans, sweet potatoes, cantaloupe, watermelon and crowder or purple hull peas.

Plan for second plantings of corn, bush snap and lima beans, keeping a new supply of these favorites coming to the kitchen.

Make a second planting of tomatoes this month. Prune and stake plants set in April.

Prune plants to two stems and place a five foot stake three to four inches from each plant. Tie plant to stake at 10 to 12 inch intervals.

Sidress April planted vegetables with one to three pounds of nitrogen fertilizer when plants are three to five inches tall. Give tomatoes a second sidedressing when plants begin to bloom.

VISIT BRANCH EXPERIMENT STATIONS

Visit the branch experiment station nearest to you to see results or "research in your own back yard."

Winter grazing experiments are drawing to a close for this season. See these grazing areas and get the information about what was done.

BEEF INDUSTRY GROWING

Beef females in Mississippi increased by 113,000 head in 1949. This was part of a general beef cattle expansion in the South, bringing 1949 numbers almost up to that of 1945.

Soundness of this expansion is shown by farmers who are increasing grasslands and feed production, and improving both their cattle and management methods.

Increased livestock production will give more stability to farm income, improve the diet of our people and conserve soil resources.
